Make a free wiki as easily as a peanut butter sandwich.

What's a PBwiki?

A wiki is an easy-to-use web page that multiple people can edit. PBwiki (<http://www.pbwiki.com>) is the easiest way to collaborate with your co-workers, employees, and customers. Instead of sending emails back and forth, just point everyone to your wiki.

Examples of PBwiki uses

- Collaborate with your coworkers. Create new pages, link to them, edit others' work (with the appropriate permissions), and see who's changed what.
- Plan an event. Don't send dozens of emails to plan something. Just use your wiki: "Mike, you handle the airfare, Jane will manage the hotel, and I'll plan dinner."
- Keep others informed: PBwiki updates you whenever your wiki is updated. Choose email or RSS notifications.
- More ideas. Share files, comment on each other's work, and track revisions. Create a timesheet, a customer list, or a shared contact list. You can use your wiki for anything collaborative.

Security and backups

Your data is safe. We backup our data continuously and allow you 1-click backups right from your wiki. Our job is to keep our users' data secure, so we're fanatical about safety and security. Our Platinum plan allows you fully encrypted SSL access to your wiki and IP white/blacklisting. For extra security, we offer PBwiki Dedicated to our largest customers, which allows you to create unlimited wikis on your own dedicated server, implement a custom security solution, and use virtually unlimited storage space.

Cost

Setting up a basic PBwiki is free, which provides 10MB of storage space, unlimited pages, and an unlimited number of visitors. Many business users upgrade to a Premium account, which allows more storage space and more features (like access controls, SSL encryption, and lockable pages). Compare the different Premium options by creating a free wiki, then clicking "Upgrade" in the bottom-right corner of your wiki.

Public wikis vs. private wikis—it's your choice

You can make your wiki public or private. And no matter what you choose, a password is always required to edit your wiki--meaning only your trusted group can make changes to your wiki.

PBwiki is the largest wiki host in the world

We host millions of visitors every month, and our users have created over 140,000 wikis. We provide ironclad wikis for every one of them.

Ease of use

PBwiki means that creating a wiki is as easy as making a peanut butter sandwich. It takes 30 seconds to create a wiki, and you can get started immediately. Use our customizable templates to get started even faster.

Control and access

You control the content, not us. And you're free to take your data if you ever decide to leave. In terms of editing your wiki, whoever has the password to your wiki can edit it. In other words, you control who gets access to the wiki, but once they're logged in, they can edit the wiki.

Our Premium plans offer advanced features like access controls, which let you designate certain people as Readers and others as Contributors. You can also lock certain pages (like your employee schedule) and hide others. You can upgrade any time right from your wiki.

Monitoring

You can get notified by email and RSS of every change that's made to your wiki.

Advanced corporate features

- Domainification. Make your wiki appear to be hosted at <http://wiki.mycompany.com> or <http://www.mycompany.com/wiki>. We'll still host the wiki (and manage all security and hosting), but your wiki can be integrated into your domain structure.
- Enterprise-grade SSL. Platinum plans get end-to-end encryption, which we handle invisibly. Just set it up and you're secure.
- Custom CSS for design consistency. Make your wiki look like your Web site using customizable CSS, available on the Platinum plan. For example, <http://www.redswoosh.net> customized their PBwiki to be visually consistent with their wiki, <http://redswoosh.pbwiki.com>.

About PBwiki

PBwiki is the largest wiki host in the world. We host over 140,000 wikis for educators, business users, and consumers, with over a million pages of user-created content. PBwiki is the chief product of Coceve Inc., a privately held company in San Bruno, California.

What other business users are saying about PBwiki

"The wikis...are a great success in our biz because they are easy to use. Haven't even needed to have a "training session".

A colleague this am told me she keeps one of the wikis "open all day" in case she needs to review something. She found it invaluable in writing the business plan for a product which was an outcome of this project. Time she would have spent collecting input was spent on the plan itself.

I rarely get an email saying, "hey, can you send me the {} or the []?" They know where to go."

I thought it worth letting you know that PBWiki has fundamentally changed the way my company operates. We use our wiki (and we upgraded to get the extra disk space) to share information with everyone working on our projects. That group is large with diverse contributions and located in different parts of the world.

Wikis in general and especially PBWiki have really helped us communicate better, be more organized, and more efficient with everything we do. Life is short, time is money and I feel like PBWiki has extended both for me.
